 Amar Records ©2019 P 1131195 2 3521383453537
 A unique musician, unparalleled in his mastery of the various melodic and linguistic dialects. Upon hearing him sing in Damascene dialect, one guesses that he was born in Beirut, he mastered literary Arabic, and his accent is sometimes perceived as Damascene or as Cairenes. His singing of dawr-s or of mawwal-s may indicate that he was the pupil of great masters And when he expresses himself in baghdadi, he sounds like a pure Bedouin. Yet, when he plays tanbur, all these linguistic differences merge into a global literary tradition blurring boundaries and nationalities. 64 page booklet in English, French and Arabic

- Neyshâbur : An Anthology of Compositions Attributed To Persian Musicians In The Kevseri Manuscript.* 1 sound disc $27.98
 Mahoor Institute Of Culture ©2019 CD 569 2
 Neyshâbur is a contemporary interpretation of a selection of pishrow-s attributed to Persian composers in the 18th century Ottoman manuscript of Kevseri whose transcriptions have recently become available. These pishrow-s, which did not exist in the older sources, are here connected to each other by the solos of musicians of Neoclassical Ensemble of Tehran, which benefit particularly from some free and non-stereotyped modulations, in order to structure a whole in the form of a suite. Here, all the aesthetic and methodological infrastructures of performance of the old transcriptions are in common with those of the album 'Ajamlar, nevertheless, Neyshâbur presents some evolutions in the way that it uses the orchestral potentials -- the fact that makes its musical expression more personal and more contemporary. Performers: Neoclassical Ensemble of Tehran -- Farid Kheradmmand, Bendir and Bell -- Sâmeh Habibi, Kamânche -- Mehdi Bahri, Santur Bass -- Sa'îd Nâyeb Mohammadi, Ud -- Amir Sharifi, Târ -- Ehsân Âbedi, Ney -- Zia Mirabdolbaghi, Tombak.
 Arrangement, Artistic direction and Santur: Arash Mohafez.
